++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Remaining rather chilly and showery into the weekend.

Today:

Occasionally cloudy as showers feed in from the coast, possibly some hail in heavier bursts. However, there will also be bright or sunny spells in-between. Feeling chilly in the northerly breeze. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:

Showers will mostly die overnight, with most places becoming dry with clear spells. A touch of frost is likely where there are any lengthier clearer spells. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Friday:

Bright or sunny spells and scattered showers, locally heavy. Still feeling chilly, although generally light winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Saturday, occasional showers, perhaps cloudier near the coast. Sunday, sunny spells and showers. Chilly with overnight frost possible. Monday, rain and strong winds spreading from the west.
